TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

[TELEGRAPHIC REPORTS FOR THE PRESS ASSOCIATION.]

Entered according to act of Congress, in the year 1861, by J. S. Thrasher, in the Clerk's Office of the District Court of the Confederate States of the Northern District of Georgia.

Later From the North.

RICHMOND, Nov. 20.—A flag of truce boat, with freight for Yankee persons, arrived at City Point yesterday.

Meredith's reply to Ould's last letter, in regard to the proposition for the exchange of prisoners, was returned without answer, in consequence of offensive personalties. The correspondence between Ould and Meredith is therefore closed.

Ould has received a letter from Gen. Hitchcock, who appears to be Meredith's superior, in which questions heretofore raised are calmly discussed. This letter will be replied to in a becoming spirit, and the hope is indulged that the correspondence may lead eventually to an arrangement for the exchange.

The New York World of the 16th copies the correspondence recently published in the Enquirer, and editorially admits that the stoppage of the exchange is solely the work of the Federal government and intimates that the subject will lead to lively times in Washington after the election of Speaker.

Meade was in Washington on the 14th, and was closeted several hours with Lincoln and Halleck.

Fourteen miles more of the Orange and Alexandria Railroad has been completed, including the Rappahannock bridge.

The Chattanooga correspondent of the World says no offensive movements can yet be undertaken by the army, as sufficient supplies have not yet been accumulated. A large number of mules and horses had died for want of food.

In a late speech Wendell Phillips stated that Lincoln admitted to him in January, that the greatest folly of his life, was the issuing of the Emancipation Proclamation.

Of four steamers recently captured off Wilmington, one was taken with thirty thousand Enfield rifles, ammunition clothing, etc.

The World's financial article says the condition of the New York banks and the Treasury Departments financial affairs are generally, to-day, worse than we could have conceived it possible to make ouside advices. The public sell and realize at once on all railway shares they hold, as a speculation.

From Charleston—Shelling the City, &c.

CHARLESTON, Nov. 19.—The enemy fired eleven shots from Gregg at the city to-day between 11 a. m and 1 p. m. Damage trifling. Some three or four buildings were struck and one person slightly injured. The Pawnee and another gunboat came up the Stono and shelled battery Pringle, but effected nothing. The firing on Sumter was slow and steady all day. Some four shots were fired at the Sullivan's Island batteries. No casualties at Fort Sumter or Sullivan's Island.

[SECOND DISPATCH.]

CHARLESTON, Nov. 20.—Between two and three this morning the enemy in several barges, approached Sumter, and upon being hailed from the Fort, answered with oaths. They discharged several volleys of musketry which were replied to by the garrison, the engagement lasting from fifteen to twenty minutes, when the barges withdrew. Moultrie, Bee and Johnson also opened on the barges. It is not known what damage was done to the Yankees. Maj. Elliott says it was a feigned assault.

Gregg and Cumming's Point have opened a very heavy fire on Sumter this morning.

Two or three more shells were thrown into the city last night. No person injured.

[THIRD DISPATCH.]

The enemy resumed fire on the city this morning about 11 o'clock. At 4 o'clock this afternoon the number of shells thrown was 12. The enemy are shelling Sumter to-day more heavy than usual with mortars. But a few rifled shots fired. No casualties either in the city or at the fort.

The Georgia Legislature.

MILLEDGEVILLE, Nov. 19.—The House unanimously concurred in the Senate resolution re-enacting the resolution in reference to secession of Georgia, pledging anew the resources of the State in vindication of the position they assumed, declaring to never tire of the war until independence be achieved.

The House also unanimously concurred in the Senate resolution endorsing the patriotism and wisdom of President Davis in discharging the arduous duties devolving upon him.

Hon. Mr. Harrington, member of the House from Terrell county, died to-day.

Good News, if True.

MERIDIAN, Nov. 19.—A special dispatch from Summit, dated Nov. 19th, says that a gentleman from New Orleans reports that Dana's expedition to Mattagorda Bay was wrecked and seven transports driven ashore and captured, with all on board. Gen. Banks accompanied the expedition and has not yet been heard from.

Longstreet Reported in Knoxville.

ATLANTA, Nov. 19—Advices from the front report that Longstreet, on Monday, was ten miles from Knoxville and advancing. A good many of his men are reaching our lines, who were wounded in a conflict between the pickets for the possession of a woodpile, half way between Chattanooga on our line, which nearly brought on a general engagement. The Marietta Confederate says that Longstreet certainly holds Knoxville.

Capture of Yankees.

RICHMOND, Nov. 20—On Wednesday, about daylight, Gen. Hampton surprised a cavalry camp of the enemy, four miles from Stevensburg, in Culpeper county, and captured one hundred and seventy-five and their horses and equipments, and killed one Major and two or three privates. Our loss one killed and four wounded. Our cavalry also captured thirty-nine Yankees at Ely's Ford a few days ago.

Nearly all of Meade's forces are represented to be south of the Orange road.

The Attack upon Knoxville.

RICHMOND, Nov. 20.—An official telegram from Bragg, dated Mission Ridge, 19th, says: Wheeler reports his attack upon and disposal of the enemy's forces, our cavalry pursuing them into their works at Knoxville, capturing 300 prisoners. Our infantry force is close up.

From South-Western Virginia.

VOL. V. RALEIGH, SATURDAY, NOV. 21, 1863. NO. 10.

For the Progress.]

GENERAL HOSPITAL, No. 8.
Raleigh, Nov. 20th, 1863.

MR. EDITOR:—In the darkness of the night, I was terrified with a dream. Fear came upon me, and trembling, which made all my bones to shake. I dreamed that I was taken very sick and sent to a Hospital. While there I had business of great importance to attend to at home, that required my immediate presence.

I appealed to the Surgeon in Charge for leave of absence, with tears in my eyes as large as Connecticut nutmegs, and five times as genuine, but all in vain. He informed me that he had no right to grant it; so I bowed in humble submission to his will and turned away with a sad countenance, perfectly satisfied that he was acting in the faithful discharge of his duty, and did right to refuse me.

I dreamed that I set to work to employ some one to go in my place and transact my business for me. I very soon succeeded in finding one of the finest looking specimens of humanity my eyes ever beheld in the shape of a man, who informed me that he had placed in the army a substitute, for whom he had paid the enormous sum of one hundred dollars, and behind whom, he was now securely screened from service himself. His object being to make money out of the necessities of others while the times were flush, he agreed to go, provided I would pay him fifteen dollars a day for his horse and ten dollars a day for his own services.

I informed him that I had been a soldier for lo! these many months past—that I had fit and bled, and almost died for my country, in order that he and I might enjoy the blessings of liberty, and our posterity bask in the sunshine of freedom. I told him further, that I was a poor private in the ranks, receiving only eleven dollars a month for my services—that I had a family who were dependent upon me for a support, and that under the circumstances surely he could not have the hardness of heart to require of me five months wages for only two days service.

He turned a deaf ear to all my entreaties and declared that he would not go for anythig less. So I paid him the fifty dollars and away he went.

Just then, I dreamed that Gabriel blowed his horn. Fear and trembling seized upon all men, because they knew it was the last trump of the arch-angel, sounding to announce that time should be no more. Thunders rolled from pole to pole, and forked lightning played. Myriads who had slept for thousands of years in the silence of the grave arose to meet Him "who in his car of vengeance came to judge the world in righteousness." There was a mighty weeping, and wailing, and gnashing of teeth. Loud above them all, I heard the voice of him, who took from me the five months wages for two days service, calling upon the rocks and mountains to fall upon him, and hide his face from the presence of a sin avenging God. He went down into the bottomless pit and I saw him not again. I awoke, and behold! it was a dream.

Let all the extortioners and speculators in the Confederacy take warning, lest on the day of final account, they should sadly realize the awful fate of the miserable wretch, who exacted from the poor soldier, five months' wages, for two day service.

LEAN SHANKS.

FROM CHARLESTON.—The Mercury of Wednesday says:

It is believed that in their assault upon Moultrie two, at least, of the monitors were considerably injured. The smoks stack of one was pierced in two places, her turret in three, and one shot entered her pilot-box. Another was twice perforated in her turret and smoke stack. No report has yet been received from Moultrie of any casualties.

The monitors on this occasion dropped two pairs of buoys on the flood tide. These passed up the channel between the obstructions and Fort Sumter.—It is suspected that they carried heavy weights suspended at a certain depth below the surface of the water, and that they were designed to prove whether there was a practicable passage for vessels of a certain draft.

Our last report of the number of shots fired at Sumter ended with Sunday evening. On Sunday night one hundred and eighty four rifled shots were fired, of which ninety-two missed; and twelve mortar shells, of which two missed. On Monday forty-two rifled shots were fired, of which five missed; and three hundred and sixty-three mortar shells, of which one hundred and eighteen missed. The number of shots of all kinds fired during the past week, up to Monday morning, is three thousand and thirty.

On Tuesday the enemy continued to keep up a slow fire on Sumter from Gregg and the Cumming's Point Battery. The monitors were inactive.

Batteries Bee, Marion, Johnson and Simpkins returned the Yankee fire with deliberation.

About half-past eleven, a. m., the enemy made another impotent attempt to shell the city.

FROM VIRGINIA.—The Richmond papers represent all as quiet along the Rapidan.

Averill is moving down the Valley and a raid is expected on Staunton. The Whig of Thursday says:

A fresh rumor of movements in the Valley reached here yesterday. We learn from an authentic source that the Yankees are moving down, with the design, as it is apprehended, of a raid on Staunton. They are supposed to be the force under Averill, lately in Western Virginia, and are said to be coming by way of Woodstock and Mt. Jackson.

If such is their purpose, they will be apt to encounter serions opposition before they reach their destination. Gen. Imboden, who is commanding the Valley District, is doubtless advised of their movements, and will head them off.

Considerable excitement is said to prevail in Staunton.

The following telegrams were received too late for our Western mail on Tuesday night:

Still Later From the North.

RICHMOND, Nov. 19.—Baltimore papers of the 17th have been received.

The expedition under Bank's has landed safely on the Texas shore of the Rio Grande, after experiencing very heavy weather.

The government works at Port Brown were destroyed by the Confederates. When they saw the Yankees had landed the town of Brownsville was set on fire by the Confederates, but the Unionists resisted them and a bloody fight occurred. The 15th Maine Reg't was ordered to support the Unionists.

Gen. W. H. F. Lee, confined at Fortress Monroe for several months, has been sent to Fort Lafayette.

The steamer Nansy Side was destroyed by fire a few days ago near Island No. 10. Cargo consisted of 1,300 bales cotton, which, together with the boat, is a total loss. Thirty passengers, including eight ladies, were drowned in attempting to get ashore.

Rumored that Gov. Gamble and Lt. Gov. Hill, of Missouri, will shortly tender their resignation.

An arrival from Havanna brings later advices from Mexico. It is said that the Interventionists have been defeated in various engagements by the troops of the Juares Government. It is also said the party of the Republic will gain strength with the people by putting Gen. Comonfort at the head of the National troops.

The arrival of Maximillian is anxiously looked for by the friends of monarchy.

The Confederate steamer Georgia, put into Santa Cruza, Teneriffe, on the 15th ult., to obtain supplies of coal and provisions.

A lot of Rebel Documents were captured in the Cornubia; among them letters from E. DeLeon, Paris, to President Davis, in one of which he expresses the belief that there is no intention on the part of France to recognize the Confederacy.

Gold in New York Monday, 147¼.

Earl Russell has proposed a base of negotiation between Germany and Denmark on the Holstein question. It is stated that authority to build the Rebel rams in France was given under assurance that they were intended for the Chinese.

From East Tennessee---Important Rumors.

ABINGDON, Nov. 19.—The firing reported at Bull's Gap was at Knoxville. Plenty of rumors afloat of its re-occupation by our forces, but no official confirmation.

Burnside has two regiments of cavalry at Lick Creek, twelve miles below Greenville.

REWARDS.

RUNAWAY—$150 REWARD.

THE UNDERSIGNED WILL GIVE A REWARD OF $150 for the recovery of his negro woman REBECCA; who absconded from his premises on Wednesday morning, November 11th. The said woman is about 22 or 23 years old, very black, large long face, 5 feet 3 or 4 inches high, inclined to be fleshy, and would weigh 150 or 160 pounds. She has a large scar on her right cheek and another large scar around one of her arms, near the wrist, caused, she said, by a burn. She is an excellent spinner and believed to be a good weaver, and said she was a good field hand. She took several dresses, one a homespun and a dark calico; wore a white fly bonnet and pair of new shoes. She was purchased in Richmond a few months since, and said she was raised in Milton, N. C., where she has a child and other relatives. She is believed to have taken the line of the North Carolina Railroad, and may be loitering in some of the villages thereon, or made for Raleigh, where she has acquaintances. Any person arresting said woman and confining her so that I can get her shall receive the above reward.

Nov 20-eodtf Statesville, N. C.

$500 REWARD.

I WILL GIVE FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS REward for the apprehension and confinement in any jail within the State, of WILLIAM FINN, a notorious horse rogue. Said Finn deserted from Company E, 59th Regiment North Carolina Cavalry about eight months ago, is about thirty years old, about five feet eight or nine inches high, light hair, fair complexion, skin of the face approaching redness, blue eyes, with sharp, keen look, nose somewhat roman, sulky outer look, slow to speak, but when he does speak he speaks short. On some occasions he has passed himself by the name of Johnston.

I have reason to believe the said Finn stole from me on the night of the 7th, (this month,) my fine bay MARE, saddle and bridle. The mare was two years old last Spring, sixteen or seventeen hands high, red bay with black mane and tail, several skinned marks in her forehead; the saddle was of Spanish form, with loose hog skin seat, wool padded on the tree; the seat was stitched. I will give a liberal reward for the delivery of my mare, or for any information that will lead to her recovery.

My residence is on Dutch Buffalow Creek, about ten miles South-east from Concord, Cabarrus county. My address, Mt. Pleasant, Cabarrus county, N. C.

$100 REWARD.

I WILL GIVE $100 FOR THE APPREHENSION OF my boy LAWSON, who left my house on the 13th of this month. Said boy is about 5 feet 6 inches high, dark complexion, and had on when he left a black velvet cap, black pants, dark frock coat and old deep hat. He was with me while stationed in Goldsboro last winter and was pretty well known there. He may attempt to reach the enemy's lines beyond that point.

DAILY PROGRESS.

RALEIGH, N. C.

SATURDAY, NOV. 21, 1863.

The Proceedings of the Legislature Which meets on Monday next, 23d inst., will be faithfully and correctly reported in the Progress, and those who wish to secure the paper containing them should leave their names and money at our counting room immediately. Subscriptions are taken for one month at $2; two months $4; three months $6, and six months $10. Besides the Legislative proceedings the Progress contains the latest telegraphic news from every quarter of the Confederacy, and the latest and most reliable intelligence from the army, furnished by our own correspondents and collected from other sources.

As an advertising medium the Progress is superior to any in the State as its circulation is much larger than that of any of the other dailies.

We have often thought that we had despotism in the South as well as at the North, but of course we can always see the faults of others easier than we can see our own. The impressing officers seem to have determined on the starvation of the people of Richmond, and the sufferers are beginning to cry out against the intolerable wrong. If Confederate Judges and the military authorities shall decide, everywhere, that we have no rights of person and property, then are we indeed subjugated, and have nothing left to fight for. We do trust that there is some common sense left and that the exercise of despotic power will be arrested before it is too late, for if unlawful seizures of property is suffered to go on and all law is to be rejected, and all the rights of persons and property ignored, it is easy enough to see where it will all end. If we cannot secure our independence and preserve our own liberties at the same time, we shew ourselves unworthy of the freedom for which so much blood has been shed and so many precious lives offered up. We know that the exercise of arbitrary power is unfortunately sometimes necessary in time of war, but all seizures and impressments should be made with great care and with caution, for our people had so much freedom under the old order of things that they do not feel disposed to relinquish any privileges, to any power, unless it can be shown to their satisfaction, that it is necessary to the salvation of the country. Impress them that all their rights have been swallowed up in a consolidated despotism and they will loathe and despise the government and those who administer it, who should have their support and affections.

If we had wisdom in council equal to valor on the field, we should have but little to fear, but we very much fear that the ignorance and imbecility of our rulers, together with the insatiable thirst for a military despotism which seems to have seized many of our people, will run us upon a rock that will severely try the timbers of our ship of state if it does not go down in ruin and disgrace. We know that there are simpletons who class all who raise their voices against despotic assumptions of power as enemies to the government, and all that, but we cannot shut our eyes to the history of the insidious advances of military despotism in other countries, nor will we remain silent when we see all the rights of the citizen being usurped by despotic authority.

The foregoing remarks have been suggested by the following extraordinary decision of a Confederate Judge, as given by a correspondent of the Richmond Whig. It shows a most dangerous state of affairs, and that without speedy reformation a war will be gotten up between the authorities and the people more terrible than the conflict in which we are now engaged. God grant that wise counsels may prevail, and that the Congress to assemble the first of next month may take such steps as will restore confidence, hush the voice of complaint by removing the cause, and enable our people to free themselves from the tyranny of the common enemy and preserve their liberties from the encroachments of military rashness and arbitrary usurpations at home. We give the following as it appears in the Whig:

JUDGE HALYBURTON AND THE IMPRESSMENT ACT—To the Editor of the Whig:—Judge Halyburton's decision in favor of impressments marks an era in our constitutional history. Six weeks ago the shameful spectacle was presented to the world, of the corporate authorities of the metropolis of Virginia petitioning a Confederate Secretary for the privilege of buying provisions for the starving citizens of the town. Now we have a learned Judge (thank God he is not a State Judge!) who undertakes, by a dull and stupid decision, to lay down as law that a citizen has no rights of property at all. The whole belongs to any freebooters whom the Commissary Department may commission to plunder. This most wonderful Judge sets out by likening a man's rights of property to the claims of Government jobbers and contractors. These last have no right to law—no right to sue for their claims, which must be submitted to an accountant; and, therefore, the people have no right to their property. Was there ever such logic?

Of course so sagacious and upright a Judge, who can see no rights in the people, cannot see any unconstitutionality in the Impressment law. Even if that law made no compensation, he should not regard it as unconstitutional—although the Constitution expressly requires that the compensation shall be just! On the same principle, he tells us that no law was necessary—the Government having the right to seize what it wants in virtue of the indefinable war-power—by which the Lincoln Government has subverted all law and liberty at the North.

To what are we coming? Are we indeed the abject slaves of a Despotism, which can rightfully strip us of our property and the means of subsistence at its arbitrary pleasure? Isn't it time to quit talking about the Yankee Despotism? F. E.

PROPERTY FOR SALE.—We invite attention to the sale of plantations offered by Mr. P. Heneberry, in the Eastern part of the State.

We also invite attention to the sale and lease of valuable property at Wilson, N. C. The property to be leased in Wilson offers homes for refugees not to be found elsewhere. Those in quest of quarters will do well to attend. The announcement of property to be sold is also worthy of the attention of all who are in want of furniture.

NOT DEAD.—Col. Forrest is not dead. The Appeal says:

We are greatly gratified to learn, as we do from the Register, that Col. Jeff. Forrest, whose death we announced last week, is not dead, but still lives. The Register says he was shot through the hips, and is now at the house of Capt. Steele, a mile and a half from Tuscumbia, and is doing well. On the first day of his series of fights he had with him five men, and Forrest, pursued by a large number, took refuge in an inaccessable mountain cave. He and his comrades killed twenty-eight of the enemy, among them a colonel, a major and two captains.

Our Congressional Representation.

The Charlotte Bulletin says the Sheriffs of the several counties of the 8th District met on Wednesday for a final comparing of the polls, and that Ramsay was found to be elected by 259 majority.

The Sheriffs of the counties composing the 2d District compared the polls at Greenville, on Wednesday, and Hon. R. R. Bridgers was found to be elected over Yellowley by 17 votes.

This enables us to announce the representation in the next Congress from this State, which will be as follows.

2d District—Hon. R. R. Bridgers, (re-elected.)
3d District—Dr. J. T. Leach, (new member.)
4th District—Lt. Thos. C. Fuller, (new member.)
5th District—Capt. Josiah Turner, (new member.)
7th District—S. H. Christian, (new member.)
8th District—Dr. J. G. Ramsay, (new member.)
9th District—B. S. Gaither, (re-elected.)
10th District—Gen. G. W. Logan, (new member.)

Messrs. Smith, Bridgers and Gaither belong to the present Congress and were re-elected—all the others are new members. Nine of the ten, all but Mr. Bridgers, are claimed as members of the "Conservative" party. The people have clothed these gentlemen with most important powers at a most critical period in our history—a period when we are fighting for freedom, property, social and civil rights, and all that men hold dear—and we do most sincerely trust that no party or selfish considerations will deter them from the performance of that duty which they owe to the country and the cause in which we are periling all that we are and all that we have. Much as our people want peace they will fight perpetually rather than accept any but an honorable peace, and while our rulers should let no opportunity pass to secure such a peace as we could accept, no propositions that would dishonor us in the eyes of the world should be for a moment thought of. We are willing to trust the new members believing they will do the best they can for the State and the cause of the South.

The N. C. M. E. Conference will meet at Greensboro' on Wednesday the 2d day of December.

THE ROLL OF HONOR.

We are indebted to E. Burke Haywood, Surgeon in charge of General Hospital, Raleigh, for the following official record received from the War Office and the list of North Carolinians who have distinguished themselves in the battles named, and whose names have been recorded upon the Roll of Honor:

ADJ'T AND INSPECTOR GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Richmond, Va., Oct 3, 1863.

GENERAL ORDERS, No. 131.—Difficulties in procuring the medals and badges of distinction, having delayed their presentation by the President, as authorized by the Act of Congress, approved October 13, 1862, to the officers, non-commissioned officers and privates of the armies of the Confederate States, conspicuous for courage and good conduct on the field of battle—

To avoid postponing the grateful recognition of their valor until it can be made in the enduring form provided by that Act, it is ordered,

I. That the names of all those who have been or may hereafter be reported as worthy of this distinction, be inscribed on a to be preserved in the office of the Adjutant and Inspector General for reference, in all future time, for those who have deserved well of their country, as having best displayed their courage and devotion on the field of battle.

II. That the Roll of Honor, so far as now made up, be appended to this Order, and read at the head of every regiment in the service of the Confederate States, at the first dress parade after its receipt.

EXEMPTS IN NORTH CAROLINA.

We give below, says the Standard, what is believed to be nearly a correct statement of persons exempt from conscription in this State, with the exception of the 1st District, in which the number cannot be ascertained on account of the presence of the enemy. In the 10th District the number of militia officers liable to conscription may be estimated 400. In the 3d District the number of magistrates may safely be put down at 80, and the number of militia officers at 225. In the 4th District we would estimate the number of magistrates at about 75 and militia officers from 350 to 400. It will be seen that there are only two thousand and forty substitutes. We will venture to say that this is a smaller number of substitutes than in any other State in proportion to population:

Second District.—Apothecaries 3, blacksmiths 14, county and State officers 32, C. S. judiciary officers 1, C. S. tax-collectors 1, details 180, disability 879, Ex. clemency 4, Express Co. employees 4, foreigners 12, factory employees 3, militia officers 204, magistrates 71, millers 29, millwrights 3, mail contractors and carriers 6, overseers 16, preachers 12, physicians 33, railroad employees 31, shoemakers 40, school teachers 7, substitutes 91, State agents 1, tanners 4, telegraph operators 4, wagon makers 3, government agents 1. Total 1,144.

Third District.—Blacksmiths 33, county and State officers 34, details 82, disability 520, Ex. clemency 8, Express Co. employees 2, militia officers 196, magistrates 66, millers 73, millwrights 10, mail contractors and carriers 6, non-combatants 15, overseers 9, preachers 22, physicians 31, printers 1, postmasters and clerks 1, railroad employees 43, shoemakers 63, salt makers 21, school teachers 7, substitutes 110, State agents 1, tanners 1, telegraph operators 3, wagon makers 1. Total 1,366.

Fourth District.—Apothecaries 2, blacksmiths 47, county and State officers 26, disability 701, Ex. clemency 15, foreigners 53, factory employees 3, fire department 57, millers 68, millwrights 7, mail contractors and carriers 21, overseers 32, preachers 8, physicians 24, policemen 25, postmasters and clerks 4, railroad employees 4, shoemakers 55, salt makers 421, school teachers 16, substitutes 140, seamen 11, steamboat agents 1, superintendent gas works 2, tanners 10, wheelwrights 13, government agents 8. Total 2,760.

Fifth District.—Asylum 19, apothecaries 6, blacksmiths 37, county and State agents 46, cadets at military Institutes 13, details 88, disability 790, Ex. clemency 39, Express Co. employees 8, foreigners 15, militia officers 296, magistrates 56, millers 68, millwrights 20, mail contractors and carriers 12, overseers 21, preachers 16, physicians 40, paper makers 7, policemen 9, printers 34, postmasters and clerks 3, railroad employees 170, shoemakers 72, school teachers 34, substitutes 465, State ordnance employees 82, tanners 21, telegraph operators 5, wagon makers 47, government agents 5. Total 2,544.

Sixth District.—Asylum 3, apothecaries 2, blacksmiths 67, county and State officers 44, cadets at Military Institute 2, details 959, disability 1,212, Ex. clemency 8, foreigners 18, factory employees 66, foundrirs 6, militia officers 430, magistrates 67, millers 106, millwrights 19, mail contractors and carriers 17, miners 2, non-combatants 41, overseers 12, preachers 11, physicians 44, paper makers 6, printers 13, railroad employees 200, shoemakers 166, salt makers 8, school teachers 36, substitutes 748, State ordnance employees 171, tanners 37, telegraph operators 3, wagon makers 56, government agents 5, habeas corpus 27. Total 4,554.

Seventh District.—Asylum 1, Apothecaries 1, blacksmiths 148, county and State officers 48, colliers 2, details 487, disability 985, Ex. clemency 11, foreigners 3, factory employees 40, militia officers 463, magistrates 66, millers 122, millwrights 20, mail contractors and carriers 14, miners 6, non-combatants 181, overseers 8, preachers 47, physicians 48, railroad employees 28, shoemakers 108, salt makers 176, school teachers 15, substitutes 238, tanners 38, telegraph operators 1, wagon makers 49, government agents 1. Total 3,209.

Eighth District.—Blacksmiths 76, county and State officers 18, collier 1, C. S. tax collector 1, disability 135, Ex. clemency 1, foreigners 10, factory employees 28, militia officers 217, magistrates 24, millers 48, millwrights 19, mail contractors and carriers 3, miners 16, overseers 21, preachers 15, physicians 20, paper makers 1, printers 2, postmaster and clerks 1, railroad employees 42, shoemakers 70, salt makers 1, school teachers 11, substitutes 66, State ordnance employees 5, tanners 14, telegraph operators 2, wagon makers 13, powder manufacturers 3, government agents 1. Total 1,264.

Ninth District.—Apothecaries 1, blacksmiths 30, county and State officers 2, [illegible] details [illegible], disability 1,939, Ex. clemency 3, foreigners 1, factory employees 17, government contractors 23, militia officers 340, magistrates 18, millers 75, millwrights 12, mail contractors and carriers [illegible] 12, non-combatants 9, overseers 1, operatives in iron works 17, preachers 4, physicians 8, railroad employees 15, shoemakers 80, school teachers 9, substitutes 115, tanners 31, wagon makers 4, government agents 1. Total 2,660.

Tenth District.—Apothecaries 3, blacksmiths 79, county and State officers 25, details 162, disability 707, foreigners 5, factory employees 3, hatters 3, harness makers 1, magistrates 49, millers 80, millwrights 13, mail contractors and carriers 11, preachers 21, physicians 16, printers 3, shoemakers 55, school teachers 4, substitutes 89, tanners 18, wagon makers 16, habeas corpus 4. Total 1,857.

Aggregate.—Asylum 23, apotecaries 18, blacksmiths 588, county and State officers 282, cadets at Military Institutes 15, colliers 11, C. S. judicial officers 1, C. S. tax collectors 2, details 1,913, disability 7,868, Ex. clemency 87, Express Co. employees 14, foreigners 117, factory employees 155, fire department 57, foundries 6, government contractors 23, hatters 3, harness makers 1, militia officers 2,846, magistrates 407, millers 668, millwrights 123, mail contractors and carriers 72, miners 36, non-combatants 196, overseers 120, operatives in iron works 17, preachers 156, physicians 264, paper makers 14, policemen 34, printers 54, postmasters and clerks 9, railroad employees 538, shoemakers 651, salt makers 627, school teachers 129, substitutes 2,040, State ordnance employees, 258, State agents 2, seamen 11, steamboat agents 1, Supt. Gas works 2, tanners 174, telegraph operators 18, wagon makers 219, wheelwrights 13, powder manufacturers 3, government agents 17, habeas corpus 31. Total 21,558.

From the best information we can get the number of conscripts passed through the camps of instruction may be estimated at 11,874 for the year ending July, 16th, 1863, furnished by the several counties as follows:

Alleghany 23, Alexander 210, Alamance 212, Anson 102, Ashe 165, Beaufort 43, Bertie 49, Blanden 66, Brunswick 9, Buncombe 64, Burke 198, Cabarrus, 282, Caldwell 100, Caswell 76, Catawba 189, Chatham 348, Chowan 5, Cleveland 212, Columbus 31, Craven 9, Cumberland 99, Currituck 7, Cherokee 5, Clay 1, Duplin 57, Davie 126, Davidson 675, Edgecombe 164, Franklin 97, Forsythe 350, Gates 1, Granville 298, Greene 32, Guilford 363, Gaston 205, Halifax 145, Harnett 59, Haywood 8, Hertford 49, Henderson 13, Hyde 1, Iredell 334, Jackson 7, Johnston 436, Jones 12, Lenoir 52, Lincoln 134, Macon 34, Martin 47, McDowell 39, Mecklenburg 207, Mitchell 6, Montgomery 237, Moore 215, Nash 137, New Hanover 98, Northampton 57, Onslow 57, Orange 316, Pasquotank 1, Perquimans 7, Person 158, Pitt 145, Polk 4, Randolph 409, Richmond 117, Robeson 62, Rowan 494, Rockingham 169, Rutherford 185, Sampson 164, Stokes 325, Surry 284, Stanly 238, Transylvania 1, Tyrrell 3, Union 280, Wake 591, Warren 44, Washington, 14, Wilkes 420, Watauga 20, Wayne 163, Wilson 86, Yancey 260, Yadkin 3. Total 11,874.

It will be seen that some counties have furnished none of but few men. In the East, this is owing mostly to the presence of the enemy, while in the West the conscripts for the most part volunteered to escape enrollment. The estimated number of volunteers to avoid conscription is betwee. three and four thousand, probably more—but owing to the rolls not being returned to the Adjutant-General by recruiting officers, the correct statement cannot at present be made. North Carolina has furnished at least one hundred thousand men to the war, being more than any other State has furnished in proportion to population.

THE SITUATION AT CHATTANOOGO.

We have Atlanta papers of the 17th, but they contain but little from Bragg's army. The Confederacy of that date says:

An ominous silence breeds upon the line of the "river of death." With the exception of a few random notes from the region of Knoxville, and certain vague rumors concerning the movements of Longstreet, we have heard little or nothing these last three weeks and more. We have been feeding upon the confidence supplied us by the battle of Chickamauga, and the hopes which we grope out of the illimitable mystery of that which is going to be—we are in a state of betweenity, the issue being, so far as the public is concerned, whether we shall march forward or fall back. We doubt whethere there is one single individual living, capable of fully satisfying the reasonable concern of the people in this regard. Can the Editor of the Register?

"Oh; answer us—
Let us not burst in ignorance."

We must confess that a meagreness of detail from the "front" has usually a depressing influence upon us. We instinctively associate it with retrogrades, new, but impregnable positions, and a wide latitude of strategy. When tidings come to us daily, they keep us alive, and though they may not be altogether agreeable, yet relieve from the suspense of ignorance.

One thing only we regard as certain. We cannot stay where we are. The bald knobs of Missionary ridge is no place to winter our troops, and, if we cannot go forward, we must seek some line of defense along the State road, and there pass the cold months. But how much better a "season" in Middle Tennessee and Kentucky!

Can the Register bid us hope?

On the same subject the Register has the following:

We are asked why we have not continued to write of the "Situation." The answer we would give may not be as satisfactory to our readers as ourselves.—Rosecrans, while in command at Murfreesboro, attended a party. Some one asked how he acquired his information as to the movements of Confederate troops. He answered that he had perfected his arrangements to receive copies of Southern dailies which contained all that he desired to know. Before the battle of Chickamauga the strength and position of each brigade of the Southern army was published, and at the same time the location of each battery. The departure of Troops from East Tennessee some months ago was made known through the Southern press, and their return was in like manner announced.

We have heard it said that the attack on Hoover's Gap was suggested by a Southern newspaper and that the "situation" articles of the Southern press have been voted an unmitigated nuisance by our soldiers.

We therefore shall be cautious beyond precedent and deem that newspaper best which leist anticipates the movements of our troops. Like all newspaper conductors we have been stimulated to make revelations, imprudent perhaps, by the desire to give the latest news from the front. We shall still do this whenever the publication cannot by any possibility militate against the successful achievement of the purposes of our Generals.

If any other reason for reticence on this subject were required we might state with truth that even the loyalty of an editor may be justly suspected who is accustomed to furnish the enemy with every fact which spies could acquire by assiduous inquiry and incurring the greatest danger.

The Register itself may have been imprudent now and then though its conduct has never been seriously [illegible] but the declaration of Rosecrans to the effect that "Southern newspapers were his spies" induced us of any disposition to anticipate our army movements.

S. M. WHITE,
Act. Adj't 30th N. C. T.

Tribute of Respect.

At the regular annual meeting of the Directors of the Insane Asylum of North Carolina, the following extract from the minutes was ordered to be sent to the city papers, with a request to publish:

Resolved, That this Board has heard, with profound sorrow, since its last annual meeting, of the death of Dr. CHARLES E. SKINNER, one of its members. It is a melancholy duty which we owe to departed worth to record in an enduring form in our proceedings, our estimate of his noble character and our sense of the loss which this institution and society generally have sustained by his death.

Dr. Charles E. Skinner was distinguished for his learning in his profession and for his industrious and unflagging performance of his duties, his benevolent disposition never permitting him to neglect a call made upon him to alleviate the sufferings of his fellow-creatures; and it is believed that to his exposure of himself in very inclement weather, to minister to one of his patients, is to be traced the malady which terminated his valuable life. We, who knew him and were most affectionately attached to him as an associate in this Board, can bear testimony to the deep interest he manifested in this Institution and in the unfortunate persons committed to its charge. We mourn the departure of the enlightened and patriotic citizen, the learned and benevolent physician and the Christian gentleman who, by his presence, lent a charm to society, and by his example improved and adorned it.

Resolved, That these resolutions be recorded among the proceedings of the Board and that a copy of them be sent to the family of the deceased, and that the city papers be requested to publish the same.

W. E. ANDERSON, Sec'y.

TO TEACHERS, REFUGEES & OTHERS.
HOUSES AND FURNITURE.

ON WEDNESDAY, THE 25TH OF NOVEMBER, at 10 o'clock, a. m., in the town of Wilson, N. C., we shall let out to the highest bidder for one year, the ample and elegant building now occupied by Rev. Dr. Deems. It was erected to accommodate a large school, but is so arranged that several families might join in its occupancy. The remarkable good health of the large number of pupils formerly in the Seminary, is a recommendation. It is in the best part of the village.

At the same time we shall lease, for a term of years if desired, the Male Academy, also well located. With some alterations it might be made a capital dwelling.

Also, at the same time, will be sold a large lot of furniture, tables, chairs, wooden and iron bedsteads, mattresses, blankets, comforters, crockery, stoves, &c., &c. Several Pianos will be sold. Terms made known on the day of lease and sale.

$100 REWARD.

I WILL PAY THE ABOVE REWARD TO ANY one for the delivery to me, in Raleigh, of my fine Hunting Case Gold Watch. Said Watch was stolen from my pocket on the train coming down this side of Salisbury, on Thursday night, by a villain who was spotted at the time and arrested very soon after, but too late, as he had disposed of the Watch in some way, so that it could not be found. Said Watch is marked "J. T. J."—the letters, however, resemble G. T. G. very much.
